

Quality, Environmental, Health & Safety Policy

(Valid from: July 2020)

Derived from our mission of being passionate about our customers, employees and products, the All4Labels Quality, Environmental, Health & Safety (QEHS) policy reflects our desire to maintain a culture of responsibility towards people, society and the environment, regional and international.

We are committed to:

- Prevent occupational injuries and diseases. It is the duty and the right of everyone employed and engaged by All4Labels to contribute to an incident and injury-free working environment by openly bringing up issues or raising concerns about safety in the workplace
- Fulfill the compliance obligations with applicable legal and regulatory requirements as well as with external certification standards we have taken on
- Provide regular education, training and information that ensure the necessary qualifications are constantly brought up to date
- Ensure quality, defined as reliable products and services performing within specifications to meet the customer expectations
- Minimize our environmental footprint and prevent unnecessary impacts
- Seek dialogue with relevant suppliers about improving their impact on product QEHS
- Continual monitoring of the management system and performance of QEHS through setting goals and regular reporting to management and Executive Committee

The All4Labels Group is committed to providing the necessary support to ensure that the foregoing policy is effectively implemented.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'A. Tippenhauer', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Adrian Tippenhauer
CEO